

1st INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM on Translational Regenerative Medicine

Europa Congress and Exhibition Center | VITORIA-GASTEIZ (SPAIN) | Saturday October 31st | 2009

WELCOME TO THE 1st INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON TRANSLATIONAL REGENERATIVE MEDICINE!

Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to present the 1st International Symposium on Translational Regenerative Medicine, organized by the Eduardo Anitua Foundation in the Europa Congress Center in Vitoria on 31st October 2009.

It is an honour for me to be the host of this first Symposium to be held in Vitoria, a lovable and friendly city, which I am sure will give you pleasant memories.

Despite being the first Symposium, we can trust on a long experience in events of the kind, and on the great effort made to ensure a scientific program of the highest level.

It is a multidisciplinary program, focused on regenerative medicine as a common denominator, where well renowned professionals and scientists will offer a very enriching insight into regenerative medicine and tissue engineering, sharing with us the latest technologies and applications in this field.

Finally, I hope this event will be useful for exchanging and acquiring new knowledge, becoming an obligatory biennial meeting place for all professionals.

I look forward to see you all soon,

Eduardo Anitua

SESSION I

Endogenous regeneration technology: Potential of biologically active proteins

Morning

11h45-12h00 a.m.

MODERATOR

Jesús Merayo

Spanish Group of Cornea and Ocular Surface. Fernández-Vega Ophthalmology Research Foundation and Ophthalmology Institute, Oviedo (Spain)

12h00-12h20 a.m.

Platelets as a source of growth factors

Paquita Nurden

PhD in Haematology. Coordinator of the French Hereditary Platelet Diseases Network (France)

12h20-12h50 p.m.

Endogenous regenerative technologies in oral, maxillofacial and skin surgery

Eduardo Anitua

Scientific Director of BTI Biotechnology Institute, Vitoria (Spain)

12h50-1h20 p.m.

PRGF® technology in traumatology

Mikel Sánchez

Traumatologist. Sports Medicine. Arthroscopic Surgery Unit. USP La Esperanza Clínic, Vitoria (Spain)

1h20 - 1h40 p.m.

Regenerative medicine in cardiovascular surgery

Ignacio Gallo

Specialist in Cardiovascular Surgery. Head of Cardiovascular Surgery Services of Vitoria, Logroño and San Sebastián (Spain)

1h40 - 2h00 p.m.

Use of plasma factors in corneal surface injuries

Juan A. Durán

Professor of Ophthalmology. University of the Basque Country, Bilbao (Spain)

2h00 - 2h15 p.m.

Discussion

2h15 - 3h15 p.m.

Lunch

Afternoon

Keynote Conference

3h15 - 3h45 p.m.

Regenerative medicine: An editor's perspective
Katrina L. Kelner
Editor, Science Translational Medicine, AAAS, Washington (USA)

SESSION II New developments on regenerative medicine and tissue and organs transplantation

Afternoon

3h45 - 4h00 p.m.

INTRODUCTION TO SESSION II

4h00 - 4h30 p.m.

From organ transplant to advanced therapy
Augusto Silva
Managing Director of the Advanced Therapies and Transplants Center, Madrid (Spain)

4h30 - 5h00 p.m.

Skin Cultures. From stem cells: preclinical and clinical applications
José Luis Jorcano
Head of the Epithelial Biomedicine Division (CIEMAT), Madrid (Spain)

5h00 - 5h30 p.m.

Regenerative medicine in tissue-engineered airway
Paolo Macchiarini
Head of Thoracic Surgery Department of the Hospital Clínic of Barcelona (Spain)

5h30 - 6h00 p.m.

Coffee break

SESSION III

Regenerative medicine in other tissues

Afternoon

6h00 - 6h30 p.m.

Therapeutic potential of stem cells in fat

Damián García Olmo

Senior Lecturer in the Department of Surgery of the Autonomous University of Madrid - Surgeon in La Paz University Hospital. Madrid (Spain)

6h30 - 7h00 p.m.

Regenerative medicine in the Central Nervous System: advances in the treatment of neurodegenerative diseases

Gurutz Linazasoro

Director of the Parkinson's Research Center, Gipuzkoa Polyclinic. Chairman of the INBIOMED Foundation, San Sebastián (Spain)

7h00 - 7h30 p.m.

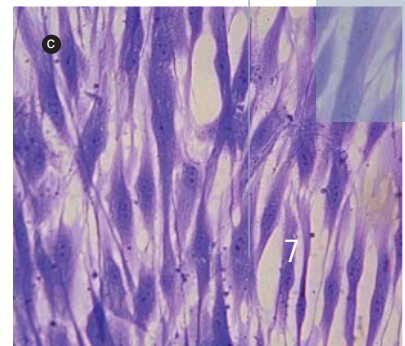

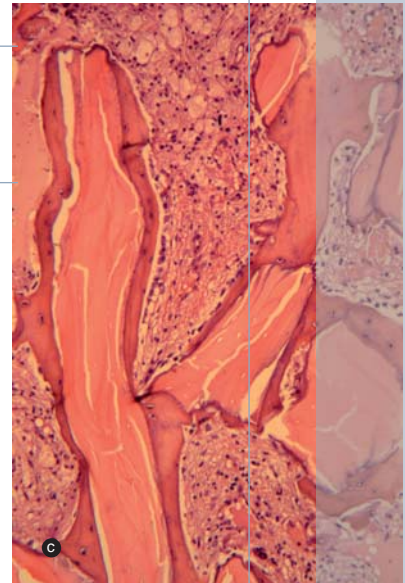

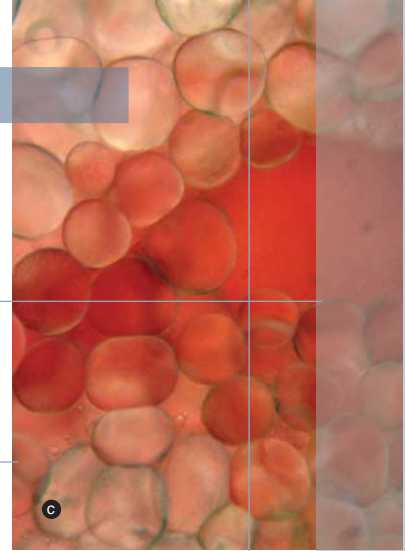

Regulatory aspects of biomedical products

Natividad Calvente

Head of the Department of Advanced Therapies and Transplants Center. Madrid (Spain)
